

Agri-symbol Park and community entrance sign in 2004

Entrance sign proposed by the visioning design team

A visioning community in 2004, Shelby, Iowa, is located just north of Interstate 80 in western Iowa. The interstate interchange is the primary gateway to the community. The visioning committee decided to improve its first impression on visitors by making changes to Agri-symbol Park, which is visible from the interstate and is also a trailhead.

Agri-symbol Park after completion of project (2007)

Community entrance sign with additional landscaping (2007)

Community Entrance

Shelby, Iowa